CONFERENCE WITHOUT PRELIMINARY DEBATE

First of the Census Bulletins Will Be Issued in Ten Days

Some of the Figures Totalled Up Will Be Made Public By That Time; Returns Being Sent In to Ottawa From All Centres.

Ottawa, Aug. 2.—(Canadian Press)—The first bulletin on census returns will be ready in about ten days, according to the Dominion Census Commissioner, R. H. Coates. Just what figures will be given out first are as yet uncertain, but census officials intimated this morning that they hoped to be able to make some of the figures public by that time. Returns are coming in well from all centres, it was stated.

Asked if requests had been received from Western cities for revision or amendment of the census returns, as suggested by a news dispatch from Prince Albert, Sask., the Dominion officials said this was the first they had heard of the matter.

Saskatoon's application, if made, had not yet reached the Dominion Statistician. In any case, the census returns must be accepted as final when they are officially announced and will not likely be amended because of assertions that different sections have not been completely covered. A careful check is made on all returns when they are received so that there is no likelihood of errors escaping notice.

VALERA'S FOLLOWERS CONSIDER TERMS

Chief Supporters Think Over British Proposals

London, Aug. 2.—Eamonn de Valera, leader of the Irish Sinn Feiners, has informally submitted to all available members of the Irish Republican Parliament the peace proposals of Premier Lloyd George, it is declared by The Daily Sketch. The members are summoned to debate the Premier's suggestions, the newspaper says, the session will probably be secret. It is expected to last for several days.

London, Aug. 2.—Austin Chamberlain, Government leader, stated in the House of Commons to-day that Premier Lloyd George and Eamonn de Valera, the Irish Sinn Fein leader, agreed at the recent London conference that if the negotiations collapsed there should be a reasonable notice of termination of the truce.

CHINESE GENERAL'S ATTITUDE UNCERTAIN

Wu Pei Fu and South China Hostilities

Peking, Aug. 2.—Military leaders here are reported to be disturbed over the situation in the province of Hupeh, which recently became engaged in hostilities against the province of Honan. It is declared they are not certain regarding the sympathies of General Wu Pei Fu, leader of the Government troops in Honan, and disavow him from pushing his invasion of Hupeh.

Friction exists between the troops led by General Wu Pei Fu and those under the command of General Chang Tao Lin, Governor of Manchuria, who detached forces to aid in suppressing these disorders.

AMERICAN COAST LUMBER MILLS ARE REOPENING

Eugene, Ore., Aug. 2.—Sixty-five per cent. of all lumber mills and fifty per cent. of all logging camps of the Pacific Northwest are working, employing about the same percentage of mill hands and loggers, according to a survey read at a meeting here of District No. 1, Local Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen. Since the ending of the marine strike lumber has begun to move and mills which suspended because of the strike are reopening. Predictions were that the industry would prove slowly and that 70 to 75 per cent. of the mills would be working full time by Christmas.

OVERHEARD BY TRAMP

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 2.—Police have disclosed what they believe was a plot to dynamite the Ford plant factories at River Rouge. A tramp was sleeping on a pile of ties Sunday night when three men stopped near him and began discussing ways of entrance to the plant. Police found seven sticks of dynamite they believed to have been abandoned by the trio. The men disappeared.

LIEUT.-GOVERNOR OF ONTARIO WEAK AFTER OPERATION

Toronto, Aug. 2.—It was announced from Government House this morning that Lieutenant-Governor Clarke has not rallied from his recent operation as well as might be expected, and his condition now is causing considerable anxiety.

EARTHQUAKE KILLS SEVERAL IN ITALY

Post Office Building in Bari, on Adriatic, Collapses

Rome, Aug. 2.—The post office building in Bari, in Southeastern Italy, on the Adriatic, collapsed to-day as a result of an earth tremor and eight bodies have so far been recovered from the ruins. Others are reported to have been killed in the disaster and many injured. One of the bodies taken out was that of M. Zavoiani, reputed to be a Greek millionaire, who was transacting business in the postoffice at the time of the collapse.

Heat Deaths.

Rome, Aug. 2.—Seventeen deaths on account of heat were reported from Italian cities yesterday, seven of them occurring in Venice. Thermometers throughout the country showed temperatures around 100 degrees. Following violent heat on Sunday a cyclone struck a portion of Milan, damaging a number of stores and forcing cancellation of open-air amusements.

MORALITY SQUAD FORMED IN HULL

Conditions So Bad Council Driven to Action

Ottawa, Aug. 2.—Formation of an independent morality police squad in an attempt to rid Hull and its vicinity of immoral houses and disorderly dance halls was ordered last night by the Hull City Council, which also decided to hold an investigation into the conduct and management of the police force.

Alderman Chénier and Mayor Coustneau defended it by asserting that the conditions were such as could not be compared anywhere else on the North American Continent, and disorderly conduct within the formation of a morality squad for a period of thirty days, during which it will have power to stop speeding and disorderly conduct within the city. This squad will consist of six men and a leader who will work independently of the city police, and will report direct to the Council.

Ignored.

Alderman Chénier stated he had received requests for police protection from a quarter of the city, and that these requests, when passed on to the police, had been totally ignored. For the sake of the drunkards in Ottawa, the police were ignoring their duty to the citizens of Hull, he said.

Big Crowd.

The fire attracted a great crowd. Traffic was stopped on the Wall and Broad Street sides of the burning building.

While the firemen were still at work J. Pierpont Morgan arrived at his office just across the street, and watched the spectacle. Like other prominent Wall Street men, he was forced to leave his automobile a block from the scene, and walk past the fire into his office. The Morgan building was under a heavy guard of police.

What It Costs to Be Governed in Victoria

It costs the citizens of Victoria $14.18 per capita more in national, provincial and municipal taxes in 1919 than in 1918. The figures for 1919, owing to the varying financial years of the different authorities, are the latest compiled by the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada. They are given in its most recent publication, just to hand, on the cost of government in Canada.

Victoria is the highest taxed per capita, with the exception of Vancouver, of the sixteen leading cities of Canada, the figure for 1919 here being $14.70 as compared with $9.67 in the city across the Gulf. Edmonton ranks third with a taxation figure of $14.18.

TELEPHONE RATES IN EDMONTON ARE INCREASED

Edmonton, August 2.—The city telephone system, which is municipally owned and operated, has increased its rates. The raise in rentals to subscribers was decided upon quite independently of the Provincial Government telephone department's recent advance in rates, but from much the same cause. Costs of supplies have gone up over 130 per cent. in the past three or four years, it is claimed, and the City Council faced the danger of its telephone system becoming a liability instead of a paying utility.

ENRICO CARUSO DIED IN NAPLES

World Famous Singer Succumbed To-day Death in Italy Followed an Operation

Naples, Aug. 2.—Enrico Caruso, world famous tenor, died here to-day.

The condition of the singer, which had been satisfactory until recently, became grave yesterday and another operation was considered necessary. From the beginning of his relapse, however, there was serious concern over the outcome and last night his life was despaired of. During the night the condition of the patient grew worse steadily and the career of the great artist came to an end with his death at an early hour this morning.

It was at 4.30 o'clock that hope for the singer was virtually abandoned. A sinking spell set in at that hour, and Caruso died shortly afterward.

Operation.

London, Aug. 2.—Enrico Caruso, whose voice was stilled by death to-day in Naples, Italy, was operated on Sunday, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Naples. Yesterday afternoon Caruso was extremely weak, heart weakness necessitating the injection of camphor every two hours.

The operation, the dispatch says, was for an abscess between the liver and the diaphragm, which caused acute peritonitis. Caruso's wife and his brother were at his bedside.

Relapse.

The tenor was until a week ago on the way to recovery from the long illness which began early in the last operatic season, when suddenly he had an unexpected relapse and was removed from Sorrento to Naples.

He arrived in Naples Sunday night, and the specialists who were called in decided to operate immediately.

Sorrow.

New York, Aug. 2.—The death of Enrico Caruso beneath the skies of his own Italy to-day caused sorrow in every highway and byway of New York.

Here he was loved by all—the poor of East Side tenements, the wealthy of Fifth Avenue, the countless numbers who filled the Metropolitan Opera House whenever the incomparable tenor sang.

Street sweepers stopped their work to mumble a prayer for his departed tenor; the cultured artist gave up the loss of art of one of its most cherished possessions. They felt the loss was not only America's, but the world's for Caruso's superb tones have enraptured audiences the world around.

Illness.

The homage paid him was never better realized than when his voice was silenced during his long illness last winter.

When he lay stricken, gallantly fighting against a death that seemed only hours away, ever expressing the hope that he might be spared until he could return to the art that gave him birth, persons in many lands prayed that the tenor would be spared to them and to art a little while longer. Friends sent messages of sympathy and hope in the hope that from every country that knew a cable station or a wireless plant. In New York push cart peddlers, as well as business barons and leaders of society eagerly bought bouquets hour by hour to learn how Caruso's courageous fight was progressing.

So the hotel suite where he was suffering from one operation after another, from florists' shops and also simple garlands that expressed the love and admiration for the poor.

The last word received here from Caruso was a government station. A staff of three men at the Foreign Office, among other duties, prepared this message.

London, Aug. 2.—W. L. Brown, European director of the American Relief Administration, will start for Riga next Friday for the purpose of negotiating a written agreement with representatives of the Russian Famine Committee, whereby the relief organization can start feeding a million Russian children and invalids. It was announced here to-day. Herbert Hoover, chairman of the American Relief Administration, realizing the delicate nature of the problems which will confront the carrying out of relief in Russia, suggested that Mr. Brown go to Riga, it is said, and there negotiate a written agreement covering all points mentioned in Mr. Hoover's original conditions.

Out of Russia.

The question of United States prisoners being released by Russia is considered paramount, and the American Relief Administration has been ordered to make no move and to give no indication of acceptance of responsibility for Russian relief until these prisoners are actually out of Russia and until a satisfactory written agreement has been arranged. It was emphasized that the release of the prisoners is believed to be the best guarantee for the safety of relief workers who may be sent to Russia.

Captain Ed Murphy, who sailed the schooner to-day with only the cook and the engineer as crew and with her flag at half-mast, said the schooner had lost her bearings in the fog while manoeuvring to get out of the way of a four-funnelled warship that sped over the shoals Sunday.

This decision was reached after an exchange of conversations between London and Washington.

Great Britain has also agreed to the original date suggested, November 11, if President Harding still considers that the most suitable time, and will enter the conference without any reservations as to the set programme, it was stated.

Flaherty, who denounced what he termed "professional purveyors of prejudice," whom he charged with seeking to divide American citizens into classes and to create suspicion and distrust. Mr. Flaherty's address drew attention to the widespread circulation of an oath attributed to the Fourth Degree members of the Knights of Columbus, which was characterized as a "vile invention."

"This oath," he declared, "is impossible and ridiculous on its face."

Detectives Work in United States; Total $5,500,000

Chicago, Aug. 2.—Further arrests were awaited to-day in the federal round-up of twenty-six persons secretly indicted with John W. Worthington and Owen T. Evans on charges in connection with mail robberies aggregating $5,500,000.

Worthington, formerly a private banker, who figured in a number of sensational financial cases, and Evans, formerly a bank examiner, operated the Central Securities Company, which the district attorney charges was the clearing house for stocks and bonds taken in robberies.

Principal robberies attributed to the band which the federal authorities seek to break up are listed as follows: $1,000,000 stolen at Toledo February 17, 1921; $120,000 at Pullman, Ill., August 15, 1920; $250,000 at Dearborn, Mich., September 10, 1920; $250,000 at Council Bluffs, Ia., November 17, 1920; $50,000 at Chicago, March 4, 1921; $212,000 at Mount Vernon, Ill., January 14, 1921; $500,000 at Evans, Ga., September 10, 1920; $3,500,000 at Council Bluffs, Ia., November 17, 1920; $50,000 at Minneapolis, Minn., December 3, 1920; $2,000 at Centreville, Ia., March 22, 1921.

In Prison.

In several of these cases, notably the Council Bluffs and Mount Vernon robberies, actual participants in the crimes have been convicted and sent to penitentiaries.

Worthington, in jail at Waukegan on the specific charge of having aided in the distribution of notes in his possession, denied the charges.

"I know nothing about altered notes, Liberty Bonds or fake revenue stamps," he declared.

Work times has been arrested on charges of fraud and receiving stolen property, but the police charges usually have collapsed in court. His resourcefulness in obtaining large sums of money and securities soon after bankruptcy or near bankruptcy for long was the marvel of his acquaintances.

ROYAL VICTORIA

There appears to be a popular misconception of vampires, or rather a very decided conception on the part of the public, that does not begin to cover nor classify the various species," said Miss Constance Talmadge in a recent interview.

The topic under discussion was the latest First National Attraction, "The Perfect Woman," which will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day.

Miss Talmadge believes that the art of vampirism is by no means confined to the ladies, but that men, as a rule, are far more adept in the gentle practice than the fair sex.

Harold Lloyd, presented at the Dominion Theatre yesterday, in "Among Those Present," a three-reel Hal Roach comedy presented through Associated Exhibitors, displayed the silent drama.

Posing at the fox hunt of the O'Briens as a famous horseman and hunter, the inexperienced "butcher" of the circus, who has been so often seen in the "Ducks and Drakes," is now at the Dominion Theatre for a week's run.

Chaperons should arrange to see it, and lively young ladies will not be likely to miss it, for they can always learn new tricks from the versatile and dashing Miss Daniels.

EXPLANATIONS FOR CONFERENCE

Government's Action on Unemployment Caused by Serious Conditions

An important step has been taken by the Government of British Columbia, brought about by the problem of wide-spread unemployment now existing in the Province, says a statement issued to-day by the Department of Labor.

Acting upon instructions from the Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, Minister of Labor, J. D. McEwen, deputy minister, has issued invitations to a number of leading employers of labor, representatives of employers' associations, and representatives of the cities and municipalities of the Coast, to attend a conference at the Court House, Vancouver, on Wednesday, August 10.

The plan adopted last Winter, whereby relief schemes were put on foot, of which the cost was shared equally by the Dominion and Provincial Governments, has been found to have serious defects. Some local authorities did not adopt the scheme, and where it was adopted it was found not to have sufficient elasticity to meet local circumstances, the city or municipality having no power to vary the terms of the scheme.

The primary object is to obtain the views of leading employers of labor, as to plans for taking care of workmen during the slack period, and to hear any suggestions that may be offered to relieve the situation. This is a question in which we are all deeply interested, and which will require the sympathetic co-operation of all persons, organizations, and corporations that can provide employment.

"It is the earnest desire of the Hon. the Minister that you will be present on this occasion, as it is felt your advice and any suggestions that you may offer, will materially help to solve this most difficult problem. Hon. Mr. Farris will preside over the conference."

The steps taken by the Government, though of an unusual nature, would appear to be more than justified, by the entirely abnormal situation which obtains at the present time, the statement from the Department to-day says.

Lack of employment has been a disturbing condition in the Province for several months past, ever since the middle of last November, when there was a general shutdown of logging, mining, construction and other industries. It was then expected that such operations would again become active in the early spring, but unfortunately trade conditions have kept the right up to the present time, a large number of concerns which are usually working at full capacity during the summer months in the various lumber and mining industries especially, are now closed.

The prices for finished lumber are only about half, and in some cases less than half, what could be obtained a little over a year ago, and metal prices have witnessed even a bigger drop when compared with the inflated figures of the war period. With many of the costs incidental to production remaining as before, employers declare that it is impossible to

LETTERS

"BUY CANADIAN GOODS"

To the Editor.—So says Senator Robertson, Minister of Labor, also the Finance Minister, Sir Henry Drayton, most vehemently. It is a very sensible cry, but unfortunately, the Federal Government does not practice what it preaches. Take for instance the keys in the post office boxes and the maps for the Canadian National Railway folders, the pencils and penholders used by Government Departments, and hosts of other things, patent to the public eye, and not heary or abuse, as complained of by Premier Oliver lately. All of which requires a lot of explanation, and will have to be explained sooner or later.

WASPS

To the Editor.—As August is upon us, and is the worst month for wasps, I write to the School Trustees, or whoever possesses concerning the destruction of these pests.

I have found that the best way to proceed is to use a mixture of kerosene and kerosene oil, and saturate it with carbon bisulphide, and throw it into the hole at night. You can do this next morning with impunity.

When the nest is a hanging nest—horns—take a four bag with kerosene oil, fasten it with wire to a tent pole, set it alight and burn the nest after dark.

When one cannot find the nest, I have been told that the best plan is to put fish or meat in a dish, and saturate it with a weak solution of the solution, and wash it with the best of all is the strongest ammonia.

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

ANOTHER DIAGNOSIS

To the Editor.—All sections of the community have been aroused in school affairs, and it appears that every move made is worse than the previous one. To those who have viewed the conflict unbiased, it appears that a deep split was laid, which had for its result, the removal of the Principal, and that when this was done, the disappointed friends of the applicant for the position of the High School, were determined to place this gentleman on the Northwest in the late Principal's place.

Public sympathy is certainly on the side of the late Principal. Dr. Robinson was apparently asked to make a report on the efficiency of the High School teachers. This report was to be treated confidentially. When the teachers learnt of the report they formed a cabal against the Principal, and instead of supporting the latter, the School Board became a party to the carrying out of the plot.

The Principal was expected to achieve results with inefficient teachers. For several years before Dr. Robinson was appointed the examinations of the High School were a source of anxiety and disappointment to the parents of scholars. The old proverb, "you cannot make bricks without straw," was better exemplified by the fact that you cannot get examination results without efficient instructors.

The School Board should be a lamentable lack of fair play, and an amount of bias that is entirely responsible for the present crisis in school affairs. It is apparent to readers of The Times that a majority of them, or at least a majority of them, are actuated with a desire to appoint their friends to positions and do not consider the general good and welfare of the school organization or the scholars. The last meeting of the School Board witnessed another scene in this terrible farce. Two gentlemen of the Board nominated each other as a special committee to select a Principal, the same two gentlemen fought with all their might to secure an inspector a nominee of Dr. Sussallo. Canadian should not require the influence of Americans to secure positions for friends of the School Trustees. The taxpayers of the city, the parents of High School students and the general public will take a hand in the settlement of this gross injustice. This committee of two who are to select a High School Principal and fix the salary, will undoubtedly select their friend from the Northwest. This move will enable a number of those who have been punished as to the reason why, to see through the whole game. Citizens will watch future proceedings with greater interest than ever, and already the citizens are wishing that we had the referendum and recall legislation on our statutes. Mistakes have been made perhaps by all parties, but that should not allow an injustice to be done to an efficient Principal, or permit School Trustees to become parties to a plot which is against the interests of the taxpayers, the school children, and the school organization. One thing is

KIWANIS HEAR NEEDS OF PROVINCE FOR DEVELOPMENT. W. J. Bowser, M.P.P., Delivers Interesting Address on Possibilities of B. C.

Should oil be found near Pouce Coupe, though on the Alberta side of the inter-provincial boundary, it may be found in all probability in British Columbia, and it will be found in British Columbia then the Province would speedily come into its own.

The Peace River country was crying for better transportation facilities, he stated. It was a miniature Garden of Eden that with rail connections could be ripened into a productive area of the Province.

Introduced by J. W. Spencer, chairman of the entertainment committee, the speaker thanked his dressing them on a subject of his growth and the Province.

Through my long associations in public life I have been permitted to gain an intimate knowledge of this Province, perhaps more so than any man since the late Sir Richard McBride.

From a commercial standpoint we are in a splendid position. It is an agricultural province, but that is in relation to the prairie provinces.

What this country needs is settlers. We can grow anything from cattle to grapes, with the exception of wheat, which is not so well adapted to grow here.

For Friendly Help. The call on the resources of the Friendly Help Society is always continuous and insistent these days when the unemployment situation is acute.

EXT BETTY

By Grace Livingston Hill (Mrs. Lutz)

Author of "The Search," "Marcia Schuyler," "The Enchanted Barn," etc.

"But one day there came a letter, I remember it came while we were at breakfast, and my father got very white and stern when he read it, and handed it over to my stepmother and asked whether it was true, and then she began to cry and sent me from the table. I found out a few days after that my stepmother had had two sons, both older than myself, and that she had not told my father. It was through some trouble they had got into a school which required quite a large sum of money to cover damages that my father discovered it, and he was terribly hurt that he should have concealed it from him. I learned all this from the servants who talked when they thought I was not within hearing. There were days and days when my father scarcely spoke at the table, and when he looked at me it made a pain go through my heart, he looked so stern and sad. My stepmother stayed at great length in her room and looked as if she had been crying. But after a few weeks things settled down a good deal as they had been before, and I never lost that sad troubled look. There was some trouble about my stepmother's sons, too, for there was a great deal of argument about them—and my father, of which I only heard snatches, and then one day they came home to stay with us. Something had happened that they could not stay any longer. I can remember distinctly the first night they ate dinner with us. It was like a terrific thunderstorm that never quite broke. Everybody was trying to be nice and polite, but underneath it all there was a kind of lightning of all kinds of feelings, hurt feelings and wrong ones and right ones all mixed up.

"Only the two boys didn't seem to feel it much. They sort of took things for granted, as if that had always been their home, and they didn't act very polite. It seemed to trouble my father, who looked at me and said severely that it almost choked me, and I couldn't go on eating my dinner. He didn't seem like my dear father, who always used to watch my father, and he seemed to make the day for me. If he was sad, then I was sad; and if he was glad, then I was glad. I never, until one day my stepmother noticed me and said: 'See, dear little Elizabeth is trembling. You ought not to be so nervous. You are just like Charles.' And then father looked at me, and all suddenly I learned to smile when I didn't feel like it. I smile and he would say to me, 'I know it didn't matter what he did, I would love him anyhow!'

During the recital Reburn had sat with courteous averted gaze as though he were not there, but with more of his presence than was absolutely necessary. Now he gave her a swift glance. Betty's eyes were off on distance, and she was talking from the depths of her heart, great tears welling into her eyes. All at once she remembered the stranger.

"I beg your pardon," she said, and brushed her hand across her eyes. "I haven't gone over it to any one ever, and I forgot you would not be interested in details."

"Please don't mind me. I am interested in every detail you are good enough to give me. I would like to know the background of the truth, you know, and that is what I am after," said Reburn, deeply touched. "I think you are wonderful for telling me all this. I shall regard it most sacredly."

Betty flashed a look of gratitude at him, and noticed the sympathy in his face. It almost unnerved her, but she went on.

"The oldest boy was named Bessemer, and he wasn't very good-looking. He was very tall and very straight and thin. His mother didn't seem to love him very much, even when he was a little boy. She bullied him and he was full of her, and he continually, and quite often I felt very sorry for him, although I wasn't naturally attracted to him. He wasn't really pleasant to me. We got along very nicely, although I never had much to do with him. There wasn't much to him.

"The other brother, Herbert, was handsome like his mother, only dark, with black curly hair, black wicker eyes, and a big, loose, cruel mouth. His mother just idolized him, and he knew it. He could make her do anything on earth. He used to force Bessemer into doing wrong things, too, things that he wouldn't do for himself, because he knew father would not be so hard on Bessemer as on him. For father had taken a great dislike to Herbert, and it was no wonder. He seemed to have no idea at all that he was not owner of the house. He took anything he pleased for his own use, even father's most sacred possessions, and broke them in a fit of anger, too, sometimes, without ever saying he was sorry. He talked very disrespectfully to father and to him, and acted so to the servants that they gave notice and left. Every few days there would be a terrible row about something Herbert had done. Once I remember he went to the safe and got some money out that belonged to father and went off and spent it in some dreadful way that made father very angry. Of course I was still only a little girl, and I did not know all that went on. Father was very careful that I should not know. He guarded me more than ever, but he always looked sad when he came to kiss me good-night.

"Herbert took especial delight in tormenting me," she went on with a sad far-away look in her eyes as if she were recalling unpleasant memories. She did not see the set look on Reburn's face nor notice his low exclamation of anger. She went steadily on: "He found out that I did not like June bugs, and once he caught hundreds of them and locked me into a room with them with all the lights turned on. I was almost frightened to death, but it cured me. A little while rumbled out on Betty's lips. 'Just because I wouldn't give him the satisfaction of letting him torment me.' Then he caught my father and put it in my room, and he put a lot of burdock in my hat so they would get in my hair. Foolish things those were, but he was a constant nightmare to me. Sometimes he would tie a wire across the passages in the upper hall where I had to pass to my room, and he would put his hands down against a lot of slimy toads in the dark, for he always somehow managed to have a light on them. He would tell me hundreds of things like that, but I needn't multiply them. That's the way of boy he was. And because he discovered that my father loved me very much, and because he knew my father disliked him, he spent much time in trying to torment me in secret, and he wouldn't tell my father, because he always looked so sad whenever there was trouble, and there was sure to be trouble between him and my father. He would tell me that Herbert had done anything wrong. One day my father came upon him just as Herbert had caught me, and he looked at me and said, 'I didn't care about the curls, but I knew my father did. I began to scream. Herbert gripped me so I thought I would die with the pain, putting his big strong fingers around my throat and choking me so I could not make any noise. Herbert clenched his hands until the knuckles went white and uttered an exclamation, but Betty did not notice."

"There was a terrible time then, and I was almost driven to school, good many miles from home, where I stayed for several years. Father always came up to see me every week end, for a few hours at least, and we had wonderful times together. Sometimes in vacation he would bring my stepmother along, and she would bring beautiful presents and smile and pet me, and she missed me so much and she wished I would ask my father to let me come to live with her. But I never did, because I was afraid of Herbert. As I grew older I used to have an awful horror of him. But finally he and my father and mother both came up and said they wanted me at home. My stepmother went to my room with me and told me I needn't be afraid of Herbert any more, that he was quite grown up and changed and would be good to me, and that it would please my father to have all his family together happily again. I believed her, and I told father I would like to go. He looked very happy, and so I went home. Herbert was a little wary at school himself most of the time, and so had Bessemer, although they had been in trouble a good many times, so the servants at the school had to change to new schools. They were both away when I got home. I had a very happy time for three weeks, only that I never saw father alone, and I would be nice to the boys and in the dark—the always loved to get people in the dark—and tried to kiss me. I asked father to let me go back to school at once. I can remember how sad he looked at me as if I had cut him to the heart when I asked him."

EXPLAINS CITY GOVERNMENT BY A COMMISSION

Ex-Mayor Morley Draws Up Bill to Establish New System

How a commission-manager system of civic government would function in Victoria is explained by Ex-Mayor Morley in the draft of a bill which, if passed by the Provincial Legislature, would enable Victoria to adopt this scheme of administration. Mr. Morley is circulating this draft bill in order to show people clearly the advantages of the commission government, which he has supported for many years.

The draft of the proposed bill is as follows:

Commission-Manager.
Notwithstanding anything contained in Municipal or other Acts affecting Municipal Government, it shall be lawful for Municipalities to adopt and operate the Commission-Manager System of Government in the manner following:

Adoption.
On receipt of a petition of not less than ten per cent. of the electorates, the existing Government of the Municipality shall submit to the electorate, not later than three months previous to the annual election, a referendum, the ballots to be clearly printed as follows:

"Are you in favor of the Government of the Municipality by the Commission-Manager System?"

Yes  No
Mark With  an X

Election.
In the event of not less than sixty per cent. of the votes cast in the referendum being in favor of the commission-manager system, the annual general election shall be held in accordance therewith.

There shall be elected five commissioners, the one receiving the highest number of votes shall be the Mayor or Reeve elected for a four year term, the two receiving the next highest votes, for a four year term. Thereafter two commissioners to retire every two years, re-election optional.

Remuneration.
In the event of not less than sixty per cent. of the votes cast in the referendum being in favor of the commission-manager system, the annual general election shall be held in accordance therewith.

The remuneration of Mayor or Reeve shall be twice that of a Commissioner. In the event of the service being without remuneration, provision shall be made for the necessary expenses of the Mayor or Reeve and Commissioners, incurred in entertaining or exercising their services.

The Commission.
The five commissioners shall constitute "The Commission," of which the Mayor or Reeve shall be the chairman.

Duties and Powers of Mayor or Reeve.
The Mayor or Reeve shall be the representative and legal head of the municipality and shall preside at all meetings of the commission. He shall have no executive authority except in cases of emergency where, in the health or safety of the citizens or in such other cases as may be authorized, subject always to the authority or approval of the commission.

Duties and Powers of the Commission.
The commission shall be for legislative purposes, and shall exercise executive authority only as aforesaid and in such other special matters as are herein set forth.

The commission shall appoint a "manager" and determine his salary. His tenure of office shall be subject always to the will of the commission.

In the event of the temporary lack or absence of a "manager," the commission shall appoint an acting manager.

The commission shall determine all matters of policy concerning the welfare of the municipality and its citizens, including schools and police and shall also determine all expenditures, salaries and rates.

Monthly Statement.
The commission shall publicly post a monthly financial statement and shall cause to be made and publicly posted or published a complete annual audit by a qualified, chartered accountant, not a member of the staff of the municipality. The audit shall be in such form as to be clearly understood by the citizens.

In addition to the existing powers conferred upon municipalities it shall be lawful for the commission, subject to the restrictions and safeguards hereinafter set forth, and consistent with constitutional law and procedure, to engage in, directly or indirectly, and operate on behalf of the municipality, any business, industry, enterprise, public utility or other activity, not previously or only partially included in the affairs of

Stabilization.
It shall be lawful for the commission to levy and cause to be collected an "Increment Tax" upon the sale price of real property, above its normal or assessed value. ### Odd Fellows Receive Brother W. Lucas, of Adelaide

Last evening at Odd Fellows Hall, Douglas Street, the Odd Fellows of this city and the members of Colfax-Rebekah Lodge, No. 1 met to hear an address by Bro. W. Lucas, the Grand Sire of Australasia, and who also holds the position of Grand Secretary of the Jurisdiction of South Australia.

Bro. W. Lucas spoke of the effect the late war had on the membership, especially as the Order in Australasia allows members to join at the age of sixteen years, and many of their young men volunteered long before they reached the age of twenty-one years, the age required of a man before he can be a member of the Order on this continent.

He told how Australasia, like Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Germany and many other countries all over the world were affiliated with the Sovereign Grand Lodge in America, and how, although the distance is so great, representatives have been sent from Australasia on numerous occasions to the Grand Lodge meetings.

The Sovereign Grand Lodge visited Australasia this past year and Bro. Lucas stated he was appointed to accompany the head of the Order from America throughout the Antipodes.

The membership of the Order under his jurisdiction number 45,000 and while that may look small compared to 4,000,000 on this continent still it must be taken into consideration that the population to draw on there is sparsely settled, embracing only 5,000,000 people. When leaving Brisbane, the members presented him with an ewe's head in wearing with some pride. He visited lodges at New Zealand and Honolulu on his way to this coast.

He spoke of his landing from the steamer on Sunday, wondering if he would be a stranger in a strange land but found members of the Order brothers, indeed, and he wished to thank them for the cordial way he had been received and entertained.

The only noticeable difference he had observed was the way in which the words were pronounced and he believed the accent which was used here could be improved upon.

Odd Fellowship, like the British Empire, he said, has grown throughout the world until it is hard to find a place the sun does not shine where a lodge is not in existence. The exception possibly is Africa.

Bro. Fred. Davey, Grand Secretary, and as chairman during the evening and short addresses were heard from Bro. Anton Henderson, P. G. M., P. W. Dempster, P. G. M., J. Wilby, P. G. M., and Sis. Frances A. Walker, Secretary of the Rebekah Assembly.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Gold Strike on Salmon River.
Morris Pederson and Albert Johnson have returned to Stewart, says The Portland Canal News, after completing this year's assessment work on their claims known as the Hobo, Hoodo, King and Red Rose. These four claims were located by them in 1919 and are situated between Nine and Eleven on the east side of the Salmon River, on Alaska side, at an elevation of about 2,500 feet. The work that they have done consisted of stripping and opening a two-foot lead that they have on the property. Most of their work was done on the Hobo claim. On sampling this lead they got in gold and ounces in silver. This is an easy property to open up, as it is close to the road, and the strike of the lead is such that a tunnel and shaft can be driven a foot of depth for every foot driven. It is the intention of Pederson and Johnson to return to the property later and commence active development work.

A Mountain of Iron.
Sir Edgeworth David, on his return to Adelaide from a visit to Iron Knob and Port Augusta, in South Australia, in company with the Government Geologist (Mr. R. J. Hart), Assistant Government Geologist (Mr. R. L. Jack), spoke enthusiastically regarding the numerous ore deposits at Iron Knob. "At the south end of the Iron Monarch, a huge rounded hill rising 900 feet above the Saltbush Plain, is a wonderful quarry," said the professor. "The whole of the hill with its face of 300 feet in length and height of 200 feet, is indeed a grand sight, probably the finest of its kind to be seen anywhere in the world. Not even the great iron ore deposits of the United States or America can present anything on so grand a scale. The whole of the hill was a hive of industry. I had been told much about this world-famed mountain, but the reality has far exceeded my expectations. The vastness of the deposit has to be seen in order to be fully realized. Even the huge amounts of visible ore, totaling scores of millions of tons, do not represent the whole of the deposit, as ores have been put down in places at Iron Knob to a depth of 300 feet below the bottom of the quarry, and the mountain is still found to be ore at that depth, with no appreciable change in the excellent quality of the ore."

Cricket at Cowichan.
Duncan, Aug. 1.—The Garrison second eleven visited Duncan on Saturday last. A very close and interesting game resulted in a win for Cowichan by four wickets. B. Corfield played a fine inning of 58 and Capt. Porter 25, and Douglas Carr Hilton 14 not out also batted well. Capt. Porter also distinguished himself in the field. The scores were: Cowichan 178 and 44 for six wickets. Garrison 100 and 121. Lunch was served at Leyland's restaurant and tea was served on the ground. Mrs. Corbishley and Mrs. Luckmar acted as hostesses.

New Wharf.
Ladysmith: J. C. McIntosh, M.P., has notified the Council that the contract for the new wharf has been let to William Greenlee, of Vancouver, the sum being $9,433.21 on a unit basis.

Memorial Tablet.
Cumberland: In memory of the men of the Canadian Bank of Commerce who served in the Great War, the management at the head office have supplied each branch with a bronze memorial tablet containing names of the men enlisted from that particular branch. The tablet for Cumberland arrived early this week and Manager James Grainger arranged an unveiling ceremony on Wednesday afternoon.

Photographers Met.—Victoria Professional Photographers' Association met at Harold Fleming's premises, on Friday with a good attendance, and many interesting subjects were gone into, the principal items being the lack of City Hall officials to collect taxes from canvassing photographers of other towns. Most of the studio photographers will be attending the photographic convention at Vancouver next week, where exhibits from the British Photographers' Association in London and Edinburgh will be on view.

July Record Month.—According to the report of Superintendent F. Napier Denison, superintendent of the local meteorological observatory, the month of July was remarkable for two facts. The first was that the sunshine per day averaged 12 hours and 42 minutes, the highest record of brilliant sunshine that had been recorded since the commencement of the records at the local station in the year 1891. The other peculiarity was the temperature, which showed a mean of 57.38 or three degrees lower than that of the previous years for the same period. The highest temperature recorded was that of July 22, when 74.5 degrees were registered, while the lowest was recorded on July 1, showing but 48 degrees. The rainfall was .16 of an inch lower than normal, while 284 hours and 22 minutes bright sunshine was registered, which is some 94 hours higher than normal for July. The excess sunshine in Victoria over Vancouver for the same month was to the favor of the former with a gain of 77 hours and 42 minutes sunshine for the local city. Victoria topped the list for sunshine, with no less than 23 hours sunshine ahead of Kamloops, in the centre of the "dry" belt.

To Attend Convention.—Mayor Porter, Alderman A. E. Todd, Alderman W. P. Fullerton, were appointed last night by the City Council as delegates to the Union of B. C. Municipalities Convention at Port Alberni at the end of this month. The city officials will be accompanied by Mayor Porter and City Solicitor Pringle.

Claims Encroachment.—White & Martin, solicitors, have advised the City Council that the city is encroaching on a piece of land 200 by 65 feet belonging to applicant at the Willows. Unless the city is willing to negotiate to purchase the strip, the property will be fenced, the letter stated. The matter was referred to the B. C. Agricultural Association.

Victoria Flag.—When the Peace Arch over the Pacific Highway at Blaine to commemorate over 100 years of peace between Canada and the United States is rededicated on September 8, three American citizens will raise a Canadian flag and three Canadians will unfurl an American flag at the top of the monster arch. At last night's meeting the City Council it was decided that Victoria should present the Canadian flag to be used in this connection.

Harbor Pollution.—The sum of $2,300 for 400 feet of sewer construction to serve two houses on the foreshore at West Bay, Victoria, was considered too costly an investment at present and the recommendation of City Health Officer Dr. A. G. Preston as City Engineer Preston was therefore turned down by the City Council last night.

On Unemployment.—The City Council last night in response to the invitation of the Deputy Minister of Labor, appointed Mayor Porter and Alderman Sangster delegates to the conference to be held in Vancouver on August 10 to discuss the unemployment situation and to find means of providing against hardship during the winter months. A preliminary meeting will be held by the Council in order to advise the delegates before their departure. Alderman Fullerton expressed the opinion that the stoppage of public works was contributory to unemployment. Under the circumstances, a communication from the One Big Union relative to unemployment was received and filed.

Thanksgiving Service at Cathedral To-day; Bishop Macdonald's Message

A large congregation filled St. Andrew's Cathedral this morning at 7.45, at a service of thanksgiving for the favorable decision obtained in the case of the City of Victoria vs. The Bishop of Vancouver Island. Solemn High Mass was sung by Father Wood, Rector of the Cathedral, assisted by Fathers J. L. Bradley and A. J. MacLellan. Father De Weert of Saanich acted as organist. After the Gospel, Father Wood read a telegram received by him last evening from Bishop Macdonald which read as follows: "Received your wonderful message half hour before leaving New York. Thanks be to God. Have Solemn Te Deum with Benediction in Cathedral. Bishop Macdonald."

Father Wood said that they were not gathered there in any spirit of vindictive triumph. They were just filled with gratitude to God, had been pleased to establish His honor, and made it possible for them to continue to regard themselves as citizens of a Christian country. The Bishop had consistently maintained in the face of a great deal of discouragement that British law still gave complete recognition to the place held by Almighty God in the economy of the state, and this decision of the Privy Council has demonstrated that he was correct. They must now pray that this establishment of God's personal ownership of His houses of worship may be allowed to remain unchallenged. The Empire had been built up on a foundation of Christian faith; it was their hope that nothing should ever be done in this distant portion of it to destroy the whole-hearted acceptance of the age-old Christian tradition which was the basis of the whole British conception of justice and right. Among the fundamental traits of British character had always been love and respect for "The House of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth."

At the close of the Mass, Rt. Rev. Monsignor Leterme, Vicar-General, representing Bishop Macdonald, intoned the Solemn "Te Deum" which closed the impressive service.

MAGISTRATE WILL HOLD INVESTIGATION

Evidence in Speeding Case Leading to Further Inquiry

H. G. Townsend, charged in the Provincial Police Court to-day on remand, with speeding on the Island Highway, pleaded not guilty through his counsel J. S. Brandon.

Provincial Constable Owens acted as prosecutor and interrogated the accused when he was placed on the stand. In the box, the accused reiterated his complaints against Detective Macdonald, and the language the latter is alleged to have used.

He noticed he was being followed from Colwood to the Craigflower bridge, and speeded up to keep ahead. He stopped the car at the store at the Craigflower bridge, and the Detective came over to the car. It was then that the language complained of is said to have been used.

Miss M. Watson, a passenger in the car with the accused at the time, gave testimony to a like effect, and complained that the detective had called her by her first name in addressing her. She also testified that Owens, the accused stated he did not know of the fifteen mile requirements at the Four-Mile Hill, nor that three people had been knocked down there. It was reported, on that very day.

Mr. Townsend, Sr., was called, and gave evidence in relation to a conversation that took place between himself and Detective Macdonald later. In the presence of Provincial Inspector George M. Perdue. When witness objected to the language the detective was stated to have used the detective stated he would take proceedings against the boy.

Report on Previous Hearing.

At this stage J. S. Brandon took exception to the report in the Times of Saturday's date, on the remarks of Magistrate Jay as quoted. The magistrate explained that he had said the words in that precise order, but had referred to his own reluctance to make any comment in the absence of the Crown Prosecutor J. S. Brandon. Mr. Brandon stated himself to be satisfied with the explanation. W. C. Moresby explained to the court that he had been retained with a watching brief by J. S. Brandon in this case.

Magistrate Jay stated he was not satisfied with the evidence before him, and would hold a full investigation.

"Detective Macdonald was not cross-examined, and the other officer with him at the time was not called," stated His Honor. "There are other features involved, one being Mr. Brandon's conversation over the telephone. I thought it very strange that counsel appearing for the defence should telephone an officer, witness for the prosecution."

Mr. Townsend, Sr., stated it was his intention at one time to take the matter up with the police commission. The hearing was adjourned one week.

Store Entered.—A. T. Dick, 411 Mary Street, reported to the police today that his shoe repair store was entered during the week-end and some shoes and a pair of gloves stolen. The police are investigating. The thief gained admittance with a key.

Car Burned Sunday.—A car of the Tourist Drive yourself Auto Livery, driven by A. Forrest, caught fire at Mill Bay on the Island Highway on Sunday at 4 p. m., and was completely destroyed. No one was injured. The car was wrecked to uselessness. Mr. Forrest, 1111 Yates Street, reported the fire to the provincial police yesterday.

In Hydro-Glider.—Three times around Esquimalt Harbor in an exhilarating flight in Norman A. Yarrow's hydro-glider, the Tortoise, proved an interesting experience for Mayor Porter and Reeve Lockley, of

Tired, Sore Feet Relieved in an Instant

Don't Limp and suffer with burning, puffed-up feet—feet so tired, chafed, swollen you can hardly take another step. Tis takes down swellings and draws the heat and soreness right out of feet that smart and burn. Tis instantly stops pains in corns, callouses and bunions. Use Tis and wear smaller shoes. Get a box of Tis from any druggist now for a few cents and have foot comfort—quick.

Esquimalt, this morning, and both gentlemen were deeply indebted to Mr. Yarrow for the outing. "We both enjoyed the trip immensely, and there is no doubt the Tortoise is the fastest thing of the kind on this continent. In full flight the Tortoise hardly touches the water, and it would not take much to make the machine leave the water and take to the air," Mayor Porter commented after the outing.

Alderman Sargent Writes.—Mayor Porter received a letter from Alderman Sargent yesterday in which it is stated that there will be lots of demand for harvest hands this year, and the suggestion is offered that Alderman Sangster, who is an experienced farmer, should conduct training classes in grain stooking and other farm work on the ground back of the Market Building. When Mayor Porter conveyed the suggestion to Alderman Sangster, however, the latter declined to assume such a duty, as he considered it entirely unnecessary.

NO NEW EMPIRE AIRSHIP SERVICE; COST TOO GREAT
London, Aug. 2.—(Reuter's)—While emphasizing the satisfactory results achieved by the conference of the Prime Ministers of the Empire, the newspapers strike a note of regret in regard to the fact, as it appears at present, that there is little hope of saving the British and Dominion airship service, which was announced in the Commons yesterday would be discontinued falling a decision to the contrary by the conference. This presumably is on account of the heavy cost charged with the present necessity for economy.

EMPERESS OF JAPAN TO DOCK TO-NIGHT

C. P. O. S. Boat Makes Good Run and Is Well Ahead of Schedule

Making the trans-Pacific run several hours ahead of schedule, the C. P. O. S. liner Empress of Japan, Capt. Lovegrove, H.N.R., D.S.O., will reach quarantine at 4 o'clock this afternoon (standard time) from Oriental ports.

This means, providing no unexpected delay occurs at William Head, that the liner will berth at the Outer Docks about 7 o'clock (Victoria time) to land passengers and mails.

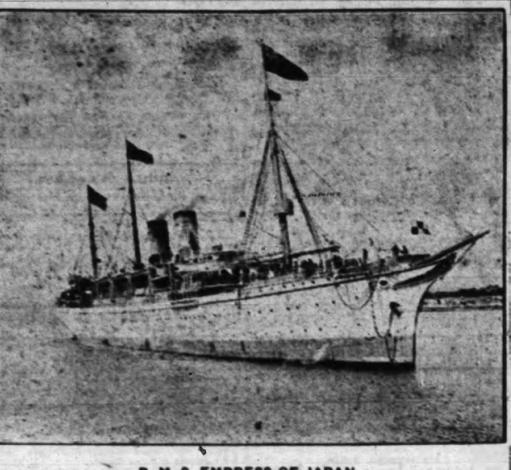

Under her schedule the Empress of Japan was due to reach this port tomorrow. It is the habit of the ship, however, to beat her scheduled time into port by several hours. On this occasion the Empress of Japan is in command of Captain Lovegrove, who took over the ship from Captain Dixon-Hughes, when the latter assumed command of the liner Empress of Russia.

The Empress of Japan has a good saloon list and the usual crowd of Asiatics in the steerage, while her holds are full of Oriental merchandise. The liner will clear for Vancouver after an hour's stay in port. She is expected at Vancouver at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The liner Empress of Asia, Captain A. J. Hatley, R.N.R., is bound here from Hongkong and is slated to dock early Monday morning, unless she is out for another record, in which case she will arrive on Sunday.

Liner Is Posted to Sail for Sydney Saturday Next

After missing two round voyages, Capt. Robert Crawford returned this trip as commander of the Canadian-Australasian liner Makura, now on the coast from Sydney, N.S.W.

During the absence of Capt. Crawford, Capt. Worrall, commodore of the Union Steamship Company's fleet, piloted the Makura across the Pacific and from Australia.

Capt. Crawford, popular on the Makura and his return is welcomed by the shipping fraternity both at Victoria and Vancouver.

The Makura is now discharging and loading at Vancouver and is scheduled to sail on her outward voyage from the mainland port at 2 a.m. on Saturday. All passengers will be required to be aboard ship at Vancouver by 11 p.m. on Friday. The liner is expected to arrive here early Saturday morning and will clear direct for Auckland and Sydney.

TIRPITZ IS ADDED TO PACIFIC FLEET
19,000-ton German Liner Purchased by C.P.R. for Oriental Trade

Montreal, Aug. 2.—The 19,300-ton liner Tirpitz, built in Germany during the war and completed shortly afterwards, has been purchased outright by the Canadian Pacific Railway and will be added to its Pacific Ocean fleet. She will be renamed the Empress of China.

The name Empress of China has been given to the Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm but as this vessel is to replace the Mauretania in the Atlantic trade while that vessel is being repaired, following a recent fire aboard her, this has been cancelled. The Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, it is understood, will be renamed.

PRAIRIE CROPS IN GOOD SHAPE

A special crop report received over the wires by General Passenger Agent Osborne Scott of the Canadian National Railway states: "Crops in good condition on Canadian National Railway lines in prairie provinces are most favorable, according to reports received at Winnipeg from the various superintendents. Wheat is heading out and ripening well. Cutting has commenced in the following districts in Manitoba: Emerson, Carleton Place, Portage la Prairie, Neepawa, Rapid City, Rosburn, Wawanesa. Cutting will be general in Saskatchewan and Alberta first week in August.

Crops looking exceptionally good at points west of Prince Albert and Regina and Saskatchewan. Langham reports crops looking better than they have for years. At balsam, all grains looking exceptionally good. Resthern crop conditions excellent. Indications big yield in Lake and points on Big River line. Gravelbourg reports crops in good condition on the Goose Lake line between Saskatoon and boundary. All grains look excellent. Rain needed in Alberta, in Vegreville section, wheat looks well. Southern portions of Alberta not so favorable owing to damage from hail, though all grains are ripening fast."

Yarmouth, N. S., Aug. 2.—Captain Glen Dobson and crew of the Boston schooner Geheba, which was run down and sunk on Brown's Bank on Thursday morning last, arrived in Yarmouth yesterday afternoon.

The crew say they were engaged in the morning's fishing when the schooner G. Duff, bound from Halifax to New York, struck the Geheba a crushing blow on her port bow. The crew saved themselves by jumping aboard the Mary Q. Duff.

MARINE PROGRESS IN SEVENTY YEARS

Service of White Star Line Marked by Important Strides

While it is seventy years since the red swallow-tail houseflag was first flown from mastsheads of the fleet of clipper-ships, the real jubilee anniversary of the White Star Line also comes at practically the same time as that of the White Star-Dominion Line. In September, 1859 the White Star Line, as it is now known, assumed the corporate title of "Oceanic Steam Navigation Co., Limited," and for almost seven years this company's clipper-ships sailed to and from the Australian gold fields, carrying over a million adventurous souls during that time. The pressing demands for freight and passage to and from America resulted in the beginning of the trans-Atlantic trade, in which to-day the White Star Line and its associated companies occupy the foremost position.

fleet was reviewed, appearing a fully-armed and equipped cruiser—a prophecy of the very role which the Huns have most cordially hated her these last five years. The Laetonic and the Teutonic vied with each other in the regularity and rapidity of their crossings, each in turn holding "records" to the great interest of ocean voyagers everywhere.

In 1859 the Oceanic was produced by the Harland & Wolff yards. She was the first steamer to exceed in length the famous but unsuccessful Great Eastern. In her White Star Line added more than 100 feet to the length of its vessels, as contrasted to the White Star Line's 199 feet. The Oceanic, the company's pride, was christened "Queen of the Seas" and was built with the sole idea of a voyage across the big pond in seven days to meet the requirements of travelers to whom comfort came first. Then followed in quick succession the Celtic, 191 (second of her name—other Great Easterns), 194, and Adriatic, 197, each well over 20,000 tons, all of them in present active service, having successfully outlasted the boats during the war. The Arabic, 193, met her fate at the hands of the Huns in 1916, but, owing to special precautions and the excellent seamanship displayed, there was but a small loss of life aboard.

LAURENTIC

In 1909 came the Laurentic, no longer familiar to Canadians as the premier steamer in the Montreal trade, followed the same year by her sister vessel Megantic, now traveling regularly on the coast from Victoria to St. Lawrence route to Liverpool. The Laurentic and Megantic both saw active service as fast scouting steamers in the West Indies and the Atlantic during the war. The Laurentic, when completely fitted out for the passenger trade, will no doubt succeed to the Laurentic's place in the minds and hearts of the ocean-going traveler.

OLYMPIC

In the Olympic is epitomized all the progress and experience of the White Star Line in its fifty years of trans-Atlantic work. This is the ship of which Britain—and Canada too—may well be proud. Staunch in every particular, she has served with distinction, she well deserves the half-involuntary compliment of an astonished soldier from the plains of the West. As he followed her mates up the steep gangplank in their quick embarkation, he stopped suddenly, viewed the ship carefully from stem to stern, and then he said to himself, "Turning satisfied to see me, my fellow-him, he remarked quite audibly, 'Some Canoe!' And so gigantic indeed the Olympic must have appeared to an onlooker returning from England to Canada, have felt secure upon the Olympic's decks, as the great ship threaded her way, unscathed, across the ocean. During the war the Olympic steamed 154,000 miles and consumed 347,000 tons of coal, without the slightest accident or delay, often carrying 5,000 troops besides her crew of 1,000 men, the Olympic alone transported 100,000 Canadian troops and over 45,000 United States troops during the war. She was also prominent as a troopship in the Gallipoli campaign, carrying 25,000 men to the front. The British Government has also recognized in its war record that the Olympic, skilfully manoeuvred, rammed and sunk a German submarine, for which the commander, Captain B. F. Hayes, and others aboard, have received official citations.

STUPENDOUS ACHIEVEMENT

It may also be well to note here that the White Star Line steamers crossed during the conflict—a stupendous achievement—and at the same time carried 4,250,000 tons of cargo!

The White Star Line's own numbers thirty vessels, totaling 256,000 tons gross register, despite war-time losses of such fine large ships as Britannic, sunk in hospital service, Arabic, Cymric, etc., several steamers are under construction for the line, and the company's Mediterranean and Australian services are again in active operation. "Perhaps the best travel conditions will also warrant in the near future, the resumption of the White Star's Winter-cruising trips to the West Indies and to the Mediterranean, Egypt and the Holy Land.

same figured since he first sang in New York revealed an amazing versatility. In sixteen years he sang no fewer than 547 times, in one season, 1917-18, making fifty-one appearances, a great test of endurance for any voice. He was unsparing, if not reckless, in his vocal power. No grand opera singer in America, from the days of Rimoni Campanini, Cavelli, Tamagno and Jean de Reszke, is recorded as ever reigned so long in popular favor.

Caruso, after his strenuous opera seasons, sometimes had trouble with his throat, which he usually overcame with a little rest and care, and at certain intervals, rumors that "Caruso will never sing again" were frequently printed. In the Winter of 1920, however, he suffered a serious affliction when a small blood vessel in his throat burst while he was singing in "L'Elisir d'Amore" in the Brooklyn Academy of Music. Recovered from this mishap, Caruso was stricken with pleurisy.

During his indisposition, Caruso was the object of devoted attention by his wife, formerly Miss Dorothy Benjamin of New York, whom he married in 1918. One child was born to them. Caruso had a son by a former wife, a singer named Ada Clachetti, with whom he had been associated in opera at Treviso and Bologna.

Caruso's repertoire in America included the following: Italian, "Aida," "Rigoletto," "La Boheme," "L'Africaine," "La Favorita," "La Sonnambula," "La Traviata," "Les Huguenots," "Fedora," "Adrienne Lecouvreur," "Cavallieri Rusticana," "Pagliacci," "L'Amore del tre Re," "Un Ballo in Maschera," "Lodoletta," "Marta," "L'Elisir d'Amore," "Manon Lescau," "Madame Butterfly," "La Fanciulla del West," "Lucia di Lammermoor," "La Gioconda," "Il Trovatore," "Don Giovanni," "Germania," "Tris," "Lucrezia Borgia," "Tosca," "La Forza del Destino," French—"Les Pecheurs de Perles," "Armide," "Faust," "Juliette," "Le Piquepape," "Carmen," "Samson et Delila" and "Manon."

Not long my voice I will do so at the proper time and place. Early this month word came from Italy that Caruso was not recovering as rapidly as had been expected and seemed depressed, but friends declared his voice was returning and that he sang a short time each day.

Reports which reached Rome at that time stated that Caruso would be able to sing in New York by next Winter, though friends admitted "it will never be quite the same again."

The breakdown in the tenor's health last Winter followed a series of mishaps and accidents which culminated on December 11 in Brooklyn when he burst a blood vessel while singing in an opera at the Academy of Music. His performance on that occasion was gallant. He struggled through the whole first act though time and again blood soaked his vocal chords and every now and then he was forced to change a reddened handkerchief for another deftly slipped to him by some member of the chorus.

Those in the front row soon became aware of the singer's plight and for lingering minutes watched the daring light in which time after time the tenor's voice rose superior to the obstacles that threatened to muffle it. It was not until the combined demands of his wife, almost frantic in the wings and the pleas of the physician had been joined, that Caruso finally consented to abandon the stage.

After this accident in the opera house every effort was made to minimize that mishap and to assure the public that Caruso would soon sing again. He did sing again, his last appearance being in the role of prominent tenor in "L'Elisir d'Amore" which he sang with such an ovation, only the combination of his own tenor and the enthusiastic Metropolitan audience could master.

Opera goes that night felt reassured that all was well with the glorious voice of their favorite, but on the day after Christmas came the announcement that Caruso had been stricken with pleurisy and that five doctors were attending him.

Enrico Caruso, for more than twenty-five years a celebrity in the world of song, the tenor with "the golden voice," idolized by millions in America and Europe, had an artistic career as well known as that of any famous statesman or military leader. He was born in Naples, Italy, February 25, 1873, the son of Marcellus Caruso, a mechanic, who affected music but was persuaded to permit his son, when eleven years old, to sing in the churches of his native city. An unpromising pupil, for three years he studied under Guglielmo Vergine, pledging his teacher that when ready for a professional career he should pay him one-quarter of his earnings for the following five years.

He made his debut in "L'Elisir d'Amore" at the Nuovo Theatre in Naples in 1894, later toured Italy and Sicily and was engaged for four seasons at La Scala, Milan. Subsequently he sang in St. Petersburg, Moscow, Warsaw, Rome, Lisbon, Paris, London and leading cities of Germany. When he went to the Metropolitan Opera House in New York on November 23, 1903, the critics did not go into ecstasies over him. One of them wrote, on the opening night: "Signor Caruso, the Duke in 'Rigoletto' has many of the tiresome Italian vocal affectations and when he neglects to cover his tones, so he always does when he becomes strenuous, his voice becomes pallid."

It is interesting to observe that when Caruso made his Naples debut he sang the title role four times, for which he received 100 francs, a pair of stage shoes, a suit of fashions and a neckerchief. Some years later Graus Graus, the impresario, negotiated with him to sing in America for $700 a month, but thought the salary excessive and the deal fell through. Graus was quick to perceive the opportunity he had had and finally engaged Caruso for fifty performances at $1,000 a night. But Mr. Graus became ill and Caruso, when singing in Lisbon, received word that again he must abandon his hope of singing in America. Heinrich Conried, who followed Mr. Graus at the Metropolitan, in Lisbon, received an offer to cross the Atlantic and his ambition at last was realized.

Although no official statement of his earnings was ever made public, it is known that Caruso, at the height of his Metropolitan career, was receiving an average of $3,000 for each performance. On special occasions, such as his 1920 season in Havana, he was paid $10,000 a night.

QUIET ACCUMULATING ADVANCES RAIL GROUP

(By Burdick Brothers Ltd.) New York, Aug. 2.—The feature of the stock market here to-day was the way in which the rail department of the list advanced. For days past it has been reported that the professional element have been making purchases in a small way, until now it is said that approximately 200,000 shares have been purchased in the leading railroads. C. P. R., Great Northern, N.P., Northern Pacific and Union Pacific were among the leaders of the advance. Oils were also active, considerable movement being noted in Mexican Petroleum. A little broader demand for stocks to-day than has been witnessed for quite some time and this was rather encouraging to the element entertaining higher prices.

TRADING LIMITED; UNDERCURRENT STRONG

(By Burdick Brothers Ltd.) Chicago, Aug. 2.—On a small amount of trade the market exhibited an undercurrent of strength with offerings well taken on the decline, while selling pressure at times was lacking. An encouraging feature in the market was the fact that the visible supply increased only a little over 5,000,000 bushels last week in face of receipts of 2,900,000 bushels at all primary points. Receipts for the day were extremely large, but country offerings are said to be much smaller, and in the opinion of leading receivers that the movement has reached its peak and that the run will be practically over within a week or 10 days. Northwestern crop advances are reported disappointing, yields and private estimates on the Canadian crop suggest a smaller output than previously expected.

Corn.—The effect of last week's bullish crop reports was minimized to a considerable degree by rains in many sections of the large producing States where moisture was needed. Towards the close of the week developed, accompanied by persistent reports of an acute export demand. Cash prices were one cent lower on receipts of 4,800,000 bushels to a total of 14,840,000 bushels. The position of this article is being gradually strengthened by the liberal outward movement and we believe higher prices will be seen, especially with any indications of deterioration in the growing crop.

Cash.—Trade was small and prices declined slightly under the pressure of selling by cash interests against country purchases. Receipts were estimated at nine hundred cars and sold mostly at an advance. Country offerings to arrive reported as fairly liberal.

NEW YORK COURT

New York, Aug. 2.—Jacques Roberto Gibrario, thirty-two, master of twelve corporations and an expensive apartment with at least two $10,000 annual salaries and half a million dollars in bank accounts, was arraigned last night before Judge Talley on a charge of grand larceny of approximately $100,000 of the funds of the Russian Soviet Government.

SOVIET CHARGE IN NEW YORK COURT

He was arrested on complaint of Miss Rose Weiss, counsel for the Russian Soviet Government, who accuses all of short affidavits charging him with the larceny of $100,000 of Soviet funds on deposit at the National City Bank.

It was charged he secured the $100,000 by presenting to the bank a letter from a "dummy" director of a film machine company in which he owned all the stock. The letter, Miss Weiss said, declared the company had a quantity of undeveloped films on hand which would be shipped to Russia on receipt of that amount. Later the counsel charged by Miss Weiss said the company and took the entire amount.

He was released on $10,000 bail. According to The New York World, the amount of money that he is supposed to have taken from Soviet Government funds may total $300,000. The newspaper says that Gibrario is "credited with a series of financial acrobatics that suggest a new period in the history of business wizardry."

COUNCIL DECIDES TO REPEAL SIGNS TAX

Tax Only on Sidewalk Fixtures; By-law Was "Vexatious," Says Ald. Todd

The repeal of the Overhead Fixtures By-law as it applied to the taxation of overhead signs was last night decided upon by the City Council on the suggestion of Alderman A. E. Todd, who was supported by the entire Council in his contention that a mistake had been made in imposing the tax in the first place.

The by-law will now apply only to gasoline and oil stand-pipes and pumps and such other sidewalk fixtures.

The Council also agreed to meet W. Ballard and a committee of business men at the meeting of the Streets' Committee on Friday afternoon in regard to alleged weaknesses in the operation of the by-law. "I think the Council should consider this whole business and put it in cold storage," said Alderman Todd. Personally, I think the overhead sign tax is a petty and vexatious piece of legislation. It does not bring in much revenue and it costs a lot to make the amendments.

"Illuminated signs are a great attraction on our streets and they are not nearly so objectionable as when you witness the bright illumination of streets in other cities and come back to Victoria you certainly notice the difference."

It was pointed out that as only a few had paid the sign tax owing to the fact that the first instalment fell due on July 15 and merchants were not in a hurry to pay, there would be practically no confusion regarding refunds.

It was also decided to change the title of the by-law to that of "The Streets Fixtures By-law."

Hunter Tattered As He Walked, But Recovers Health and Gains 25 Pounds

"I know Tanlac has done a lot of good, but I don't believe there is anybody anywhere that has any more cause to be grateful for this medicine than I have," said George Hunter, well-known carpenter living at 27 Thirteenth Avenue, West Vancouver, B. C.

"Although it was fifty-one years ago, I remember just as well as if it had been yesterday when rheumatism struck me. I was a fifteen-year-old boy going along the road, and the pain in my leg was so bad I had to sit down in a fence corner two hours before I could get home, and from that time until Tanlac straightened me out I did not know what it was to be entirely free from rheumatism. During all these years I spent a large part of my earnings trying to find something that would help me."

"I was worse, of course, at some times than at others, and I was in a particularly bad condition when I began taking Tanlac. The pain in my leg felt like jumping toothache, and my hands and wrists were so stiff and sore I could not hold a hammer. Every bone and muscle in me ached, and I was just lying around the house miserable all day long, and at night scarcely able to sleep a wink."

"Tanlac was the only thing I found that ever did me any real good. I haven't a twinge of rheumatism now and feel like a brand new man. I eat anything I want and can do as much work in a day as anybody. I wouldn't take all the money in Vancouver or for that matter, anywhere else, for the good Tanlac did me."

Tanlac is sold in Victoria by Duncan E. Campbell and by leading druggists everywhere. (Adv.)

ESQUIMALT WILL SEND MEN TO AID PRAIRIE HARVEST

Agree to Advance Transportation Scheme

At the regular session of the Esquimalt Council last night S. Harvey Creech, of the Government Employment Bureau, outlined the Government offer in connection with shipping the unemployed to the Prairies for the harvesting season. Under this scheme the municipality pays the fares of the men in their district who wish to go, and cannot put up the money themselves. The Federal Government will reimburse the municipality one-third, the Provincial Government another third, leaving a third to be found by the municipality itself. The men so assisted have to repay out of the wages they earn on their return.

The Council agreed to co-operate in this connection, and will send all so desirous of going to the harvesting to the bureau for registration. It is estimated that something less than forty fares will suffice for the residents of Esquimalt in this connection.

As the result of a circular from the Provincial Minister of Labor the Esquimalt Council appointed Reeve Lockley as delegate to the Government conference on labor in Vancouver on August 10. The Reeve was also appointed as delegate to the Port Alberni conference of the Union of B. C. Municipalities, to commence August 31.

The Council received a request to send delegates for the conference of the Good Roads Association, from the Board of Education. The communication was voted received and filed, as the Council is not a member of that association. The Good Roads convention will be held in Port Alberni on August 30.

WHITE BURLEY TOBACCO IN CANADA

It is well on in the fourth century since Sir Walter Raleigh introduced tobacco to England, and since that time it has grown into world-wide popularity. There are now, H. A. Freeman, Dominion tobacco specialist tells us in a bulletin just issued at Ottawa, "White Burley Tobacco in Canada," more than fifty species of the genus Nicotiana. On the North American continent, the tobacco of commercial importance belongs to the special Nicotiana tabacum. White Burley, discovered in Ohio in 1866 was grown in this country, namely, Broadleaf White Burley, that does not grow well on heavy land; Stanley White Burley, that is recommended for dark, heavier soils, and Johnston's Resistant Burley, which is best to sow on "diseased" land, that is, land not free from root-rot. White Burley is used for both chewing and smoking. The annual crop in America, including Canada is three hundred and fifty to four hundred million pounds, Kentucky being the principal seat of its growth. It finds a market in Europe as well as in Canada and the United States, but while in the last mentioned country the acreage devoted to White Burley is from three to four hundred thousand acres, in Canada only about twenty thousand acres are covered. Mr. Freeman in his bulletin tells us about its cultivation, and preparation for the market.

H. H. SMITH OF SASKATOON, NEW HIGH SCHOOL HEAD

Will Come Here to Put School Back on Efficient Basis

IRA DILWORTH IS FAVORED FOR POST

Herbert H. Smith, B. A., superintendent of schools at Saskatoon, was appointed Principal of Victoria High School by the School Board at a special session yesterday. Taking office September 1, he will receive $3,500 a year instead of the $2,350 received by his predecessor. Mr. Smith will start for the coast almost immediately in order that he may familiarize himself with the school over which he will assume control before the opening of the Fall term. Until Mr. Smith can investigate the qualifications of his teaching staff and other details connected with the administration of the High School no new High School teachers will be appointed by the Board. It is thought that the new principal may wish to re-arrange the staff completely, and on that account the Trustees will await his advice on appointments. Mr. Smith's appointment was urged upon the School Board yesterday by Chairman Dr. Raynor and Trustee J. L. Beckwith, a special committee appointed to recommend a suitable man for the position. The committee urged, and the other trustees agreed, that a teacher from another city should be appointed so that he could assume office unhampered by any association with the recent High School upheaval.

Tribute to Mr. Dilworth. Were it not for this fact, Ira Dilworth, one of the youngest members of the High School staff, undoubtedly would have been appointed, for a majority of the Board agreed that, under the circumstances, those prevailing at present, he would be the logical man for the position. Mr. Dilworth is a Victoria man who received his education in Victoria Schools at McGill University, and later at Harvard University. He commenced teaching at the High School immediately after concluding his studies at McGill, and is considered one of the most brilliant of British Columbia High School teachers. Mr. Dilworth had not applied for the High School principalship, but his appointment was strongly urged by Trustee Mrs. Coady Johnson. The proposal that he should be made principal, although one of the youngest members of the High School staff, is considered a remarkable tribute to his ability and popularity with teachers and students. The name of John Marr, of the King Edward High School, Vancouver, was suggested to the Board by Trustee George Jay, but eventually Mr. Smith's appointment was carried without a dissenting voice.

A Strong Recommendation. The committee has made enquiries particularly with regard to Mr. Dilworth whose qualifications fit in admirably with the present requirements, said Mr. Beckwith, presenting the report of the committee which considered the High School appointments. "We have no hesitation in recommending him at a salary of $3,500 a year. Though that is not so big a salary as he asks when he applied for the Municipal Inspectorship, he had signified his willingness to receive that amount. We have some very efficient teachers at the High School—we have forgotten that," said Mrs. Coady Johnson. "One in particular, a man who has gone through our schools, has graduated from McGill, has taken a post graduate course at Harvard and who achieved remarkable results at recent matriculation examinations. He is admirably equipped for the principalship and can grapple with the present situation. I have much pleasure in suggesting the name of Mr. Ira Dilworth."

Against Promoting Teacher. "We have considered the possibility of promoting a teacher but we think, under the present circumstances it would be wise," Mr. Beckwith explained. "We want an administrator more than a teacher, and particularly in view of the ever-increasing size of the High School which, by the way, will be the biggest in British Columbia."

"I still think we have a good man in Mr. Dilworth," Mrs. Coady Johnson persisted. "Mr. Smith, not knowing conditions at the High School, would be at a great disadvantage. We don't want to throw the pupils back any further."

Trustee George Jay was inclined to oppose the appointment of an outsider when a British Columbia man was available. "I think," said Mr. Marr, of Vancouver, was admirably fitted for the position. "We should bear in mind the size of the school and the man who is now in the position of administrator, a teacher," Chairman Dr. Raynor urged. "We have consulted the Department of Education and the Municipal Inspector on this matter. If conditions were otherwise I would support Mr. Dilworth who, under different circumstances, would make a splendid principal. It is a very serious matter but I have no hesitation in recommending Mr. Smith. Under any other conditions my choice would be Mr. Dilworth."

"Under ordinary circumstances it might be advisable to promote a teacher but not under the present conditions," said Mr. Dilworth. "I would just like to say a word in support of Mr. Dilworth but it would do him more harm than good to make him a rival of the present principal. Trustee P. J. Riddell agreed. "He is a young man, and I have no hesitation in predicting that he will go far beyond the High School principalship."

to familiarizing himself with what is being done to make teaching more scientific. He also took courses in the application of standardized tests and intelligence tests. Some work along this line has been done in Saskatoon. During the last few years Mr. Smith has visited schools in Canada, the United States and many parts of Canada in order to keep in close touch with all developments and improvements in his profession. As superintendent of the Saskatoon schools, Mr. Smith receives a salary of $4,000 a year. His desire to come to the coast, however, has persuaded him to accept a smaller salary here.

The New Principal. Mr. Smith is an honor graduate of the University of Toronto (1900) in the department of natural science. After completing training at the Normal College in Hamilton, he took up High School teaching first at Orangeville, Ont., then at East Toronto, and later at the Jarvis Street Collegiate Institute, Toronto, as junior science master. In 1904 the war broke the West took him to Saskatchewan and he served as principal of the Prince Albert High School. In 1906 he was appointed Government Inspector, with headquarters in Saskatoon. After four years' service in that capacity he resigned to accept the superintendency of the public schools in Saskatoon, a position which he still occupies.

Mr. Fred Funston, Craik, Sask., writes: "A year ago last harvest I was taken with a sudden attack of diarrhoea which completely laid me out, and in a few hours I had to quit work. The cramps in my stomach were dreadful, the beads of perspiration would stand out on my face at times I was in such great distress. At last I got a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I used it according to the directions and soon obtained a great change for the better, for which I was very thankful. I don't know what the cause of my sickness was except the extremely hot weather and the active work of stoking the wheat. Several of my neighbors were taken the same as myself and had the doctor attend them but they didn't get any great relief until I advised them to use Dr. Fowler's, when they soon experienced a great change."

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 76 years and many cheap imitations are being offered to the public. Be sure and get the genuine put up only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont. Price, 50c. (Adv.)

NEW COAL OIL ENGINE SHORTLY BEING DEMONSTRATED

T. B. Ross & Company, Ltd. of Victoria and Vancouver, with offices in London and Liverpool, England, are placing on the local market a new type of portable utility agricultural and industrial motor of great novelty of design and excellent workmanship. The machine is called the Ransome Wizard Oil Engine, and is made in two sizes, 2 1/2 and 6 horsepower.

The unit is especially economical of fuel, having a very low maintenance and running cost. Made in portable and stationary types the machine is proving of the greatest use in farm and general works. The Ransome is a paraffin (coal oil) engine, starting and operating on coal oil, without the use of a magneto, blow lamp, sparking plug or carburetor, ignition being effected by compression. The fuel being atomized, meeting with the air and explodes, doing away with the cumbersome work of the ordinary gas engine.

The Ransome engine compares most favorably in price with similar power units of the portable utility industrial and other engine requirements in this country. The Ransome is made at Ipswich, England, and is of Old Country manufacture throughout. Canadian manufacture of the engine might be undertaken at a later date. The Ransome is made by the famous firm of Ransome, Sims & Jefferies, Ltd., of Ipswich, a firm which is known generally throughout the world for all classes of locomotives and winding machinery, motor lawn mowers, and a variety of other mechanical contrivances.

Messrs. T. B. Ross and Co., Ltd. are the Western representatives of the firm. HUSBAND: "Really, dear, when I thanked you for your valuable birthday gift I had no idea that the bill would be sent in to me." WIFE: "Didn't I tell you at the time that I could afford to be generous, you stupid dear?"

ESQUIMALT WANTS FREIGHT SIDING

Desires Facilities at Admiral's Road Station

After some discussion it was resolved at the Esquimalt Council last evening that action of the municipal council in connection with the Victoria Economic Council would be held in abeyance until after the report of the Reeve on the Vancouver Government conference under Attorney-General Farris.

The half-yearly audit of the books of the Council, showing a favorable report, was received and filed. The fire marshal reported that three fires had taken place during the month, one at the Sweeney Coopers Company's plant doing damage to the extent of some $1,500.

The Victoria West fire engines and crew and five volunteers were thanked for their services in this connection. A grass fire at Signal Hill was also reported, but was extinguished with buckets and shovels.

The Council moved to apply to the Railway Board of Canada for a siding for freight at Admiral's Road, in accordance with a promise already given to the Council by that Board some time years ago.

The Council is to show the Board what volume of business would result of such a siding, which was classed as a necessity for the growth of the district.

Housing Question. The Council authorized the clerk to communicate with Major Clark of the Soldiers' Housing scheme, and find out why the municipality was not granted a second allotment of housing money, similar to the adjoining districts. Esquimalt has a long waiting list. The Council also went on record on the matter of overhanging eaves, particularly bramble hedges, the owners of which will be summoned for the offence if not removed.

WANT SAANICH TO SUBMIT A BY-LAW

Ratepayers Revive Question of City's Offer of Water

Sixty days extension of time to allow ratepayers to circulate a petition asking the Saanich Council to submit a by-law on the question of accepting the City's offer in connection with supplementary water service, was granted by the City Council last night in response to an application of ratepayers of Cadboro Bay.

In moving the granting of the extension, Alderman Todd said that there were a great many people living at Cadboro Bay who were threatened with having no water supply and the situation was very serious as there was a large hotel there, and with the opening up of the golf links and the Uplands something should be done to safeguard all the residents of the district.

"The people there believe they can put through the by-law," said Alderman Todd.

"I understood we were dealing with Saanich when the offer was made. This letter is from ratepayers and I think they should deal with the matter through Saanich Municipality," remarked Mayor Porter.

Alderman Sangster and other members of the Council favored the extension, which was granted.

PROVINCIAL FORESTRY CONVENTION PLANNED

Forestry will take the center of the stage at Vancouver and Victoria during the latter part of September, according to plans of the Canadian Forestry Association. Through cooperation of the head office of the Association at Ottawa and the British Columbia directors, Hon. Hewitt Bostock, A. C. Flumerfelt, P. Z. Caverhill, the Provincial Forester, Charles D. McNab, H. R. MacMillan and E. D. Prestie, arrangements are now complete for holding a two-day convention at Vancouver, September 13 and 14 and a single day convention at Victoria on September 21. The subjects to be covered include several phases of forest protection, the problems of forest research, and the development in this province of forestry education, logging methods, and the possibility of their improvement in the interests of timber conservation will provide another angle to the discussion. An Eastern authority will review the trend of the timber situation in Eastern Canada and will be followed by an address on the timber situation in British Columbia. The Eastern and Western pulp and paper situation and the progress of forestry in the affairs of Canadian paper and lumber companies will be in the hands of recognized authorities.
